Dear Shin,
Calling you cute and sexy would be the understatement of the year. I'm just proud to call you my friend.
Love C.M.

Tina Banina the Big Fat Hyaena:
No we're not going to f---ing do Stonehenge tomorrow! Ah! My Eh"Cathy Baby!"
Hi! Didn't think you would get me from moi! Well, thanks for being such a friend, one that I can talk to. Have a Happy Valentine's Day with "The Man".
Love Bird's Nest!
P.S. When do you want to go for a beer??

Coco,
You're cute, you're handsome, you're beautiful, you're gorgeous and most importantly you're all mine! Happy Valentine's Day my sweetheart.
Love you always your Coquette

To Pinky
I Love those lips of yours you're cute you're gorgeous you're beautiful
and you're a  weirdo!
Love Coco

To Sunita:
May the soft wind of spring send joy your way.
From Anita, Your pal.

Larry,
We've shared so much together. I hope it will never end. Cause, ever since I met you, you've been my lover, but most of all my friend. Happy Valentine's Day!
Love Me.xoxoxox

For You,
We've been together
For such a short time
But you're all I think and dream of.
I want you to me mine.

If only things were different
And we could walk along the shore
Then we'ed always be together
In love forever more.

But whatever happens just remember
That my eyes will always say
How much I love you baby
Forever and today.

To Geweldene
Hello, how are you? I'm sorry, but that is how I pronounce your name. Hope you will be able to travel this summer, because I will. This is a rush message so Bye.
Your Good Friend

Helen
Love the new, sexy look. You are just brimming with... you know. Cool the fire or you just might create the next explosion of Mt. Helen.
Missing your laughter. Happy Valentine, you deserve the best.
Barb

Kavita and Sanu,
Smile when you see me in the halls. Remember, I have photographs XOXOXO
The guy with the bad haircut

To Lady Marilou,
You don't know me, but ever since I saw you in ECOA01Y, I've been more than curious to get to know you. Although some people think you're somewhat of a snob, I would like to be your friend. Would you like to be my friend?....waiting for your reply...
A secret admirer

Dear Valerie F;
Everytime you pass by me I conjour uncontrolled evocative images of plinging my turgid desire into your deep passionate wet warmth. The Dreamer
PS.If you have serious intentions meet me in the meeting place.(Feb. 13th 3pm)

Dear Aza,
Hey girl, don't you know when you're around nothing in this world can bring me down. All it takes is one of your smiles and my spirit soars for a thousand miles. You are a girl that is true and kind and I hope we can be friends to the end of time.

To Casie,
It's been over a year now, and we've had our good times, and the bad. But when I compare the two, there is no comparison. Last year was the best year of my life, and you were the prime reason. So remember, no matter what, I'll always be there for you. P.S. When the Hell are you going back on your diet? Jeez.
Chuck

To Chris G.
I love the gaps between your teeth, it reminds me of David Letterman.
That tint of red suits your personality.
Better luck at your conquests.
One of your conquests

Pretty Ubale,
Please share all your men with me, and don't tire them out, there always out of breath.
Happi

To Marci
You might as well know that I want your gorgeous body!!
I can never concentrate in JCSB27 & COMB01! Stop looking so good baby!!
Love Ya

To Miss Yin,
Oh, how I wish to get to know you. You look so friendly and seem very nice that makes me want to approach you but I can't. I guess I'm still a bit shy.....
Anyways, Happy Valentine's!
A shy boy

NOT ENOUGH ROPE

A story of three self-centred tenants of an apartment building. And their desire to make their lives seem important, not only to themselves but to each other. Each goes about trying to prove this in a different manner; one tries to commit suicide when her last attempt to gain attention and love fails, another is simply a self serving ignorant musician, who regards music and his making of it as the be all and end all of civilization, and the last character tries to gain sympathy and compassion by being a melodramatic hypochondriac. A witty, amusing, absurd comedy, which promises to delight even the most diverse audience. Performances February 11, 12, 13 in the Television Studio at noon. Free Admission, enjoyment, laughter are guaranteed.

REGISTRATION DEADLINE

This Fri., Feb. 13 is the LAST day to withdraw from Y and H courses. There is NO day of grace.

HONOURS DINNER

The University of Toronto President, Dr. George E. Connell will honor both students and employers involved in the Co-operative Programme in Administration at the University during a reception on Wednesday, February 11 at 79 St. George Street from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

A special citation will be given to the Ontario Ministry of Housing, Corporate Planning and Evaluation Branch for outstanding participation as an employer of the University's co-op students over the past seven years. During this period the Ministry has employed University of Toronto students for twenty-one consecutive work terms.

In addition, top students in this co-op programme will receive awards both for high academic achievement and for written reports required on work terms.

The Co-operative Programme in Administration is one of three co-op programmes offered by the University of Toronto, all of which are located at the Scarborough campus of the University.

Media are Welcome! R.S.V.P. 284-3117.

WHO INVENTED THE BUNSEN BURNER?

In spite of the fact that his invention is in world-wide use, the inventor himself is little known.

Robert Wilhelm Bunsen was born in Gottingen in 1811 and graduated in chemistry and physics at 21 years of age. He won a scholarship to travel throughout Europe studying industrial processes and the use of raw materials. His academic career began in Gottingen where he lectured in chemistry.

Later in Marburg he investigated arsenical compounds. Invited to England he began his life-long interest in gas analysis which developed from a study of the gasses given off from blast furnace operations. In 1857, he published the first work on this subject, "Gasometrische Methoden" which greatly influenced modern steel production and for which he was known as the "father of gas analysis".

Appointments at Halle, Breslau and finally Heidelberg followed, where betwen 1833 and 1855 he set up the finest university laboratory of the day. With his assistant Kirchoff he discovere spectrum analysis. In 1855, he developed the simple and practical apparaturs which bears his name. It burned a mixture of coal gas and air in proportions that resulted in a flame which gave off much heat but little light.

Some of his experiemnts were with dangerous substances. One eye was badly damaged by an explosion and many burns suffered. It was said by a colleague, "I have smelled Bunsen burning and seen his fingers smoking."

He continued to work until he was 78, the recipient of many prizes and awards.

If you burn your fingers on one of his burners, come to the Health Service, Room S-304 for first aid.

Harassment Hustle

By Anita Singh

A policy on Sexual Harassment has finally been accepted by the U of T Governing Council Committee on Campus and Community Affairs (CCA).

The Policy, which pertains to all members of the U of T community including students, faculty and staff, endeavours to provide an environment free of sexual harassment.

During the meeting U of T Provost Joan Foley stated that "this kind of behaviour (sexual harassment) is not acceptable at U of T". By creating this policy, the University of Toronto hopes to educate and inform the university community. It will enable the U of T to deal with possible cases in a "fair" and "confidential" manner.

According to the new policy, the definition of Sexual Harassment is based on the restriction of a person's academic or administrative development resulting from solicited or unsolicited sexual advances.

The policy has been contested by many University groups including SAC, GSU, UTFA, APUS, and the UTSA. The controversy is centred on the time limit by which a complaint can be made. The policy currently states that a complaint must be made within four months of the incident.

The University of Toronto Faculty Association (UTFA) had requested a mere two month time limit. According to Professor Rogers, V.P. of UTFA, a shorter time limit will allow the "...matter to be dealt with as quickly as possible..." while the memories of the incident are still "fresh" in the respective parties' mind.

SAC, GSU, APUS, and UTSA have demanded a six month time limit thus allowing students the opportunity to make a complaint after their marks have been released. This will allow the students to avoid the offender.

It is expected that the policy will be officially accepted by G.C. at its next meeting. It will then be reviewed after a two year period.

Native Indian Theatre

By Cathy Majtenyi

Tales of harsh struggles and painful beauty, surrounded by an aura of magical energy, describes last Thursday's Participatory Native Theatre performances.

A dynamic group of six native artists, under the direction of Cat Cayuga, performed a series of skits and dances designed to increase awareness of native peoples and the issues that they face.

Participatory Theatre relies on the participation of the audience to get the message across. By clapping, singing and dancing alongside the artists, the audience develops a solidarity with the performers. A dialogue amongst different people is facilitated, and stereotypic notions are broken down.

Through the use of participatory theatre, the artists strive to come up with solutions to native problems, work towards change and discover, recreate, and express their heritage. Through dance and oral tradition, the artists "interpret, not imitate, Western theatre".

Theatre provides a framework for self discovery. In the words of Cayuga, the new native generation is realizing that "we need to find out where we are now, where we come from, and where we're going".

Memorable moments through the evening included: Andy Mason's original songs, which spoke of friendship and freedom; Amos Keye's absorbing talk on the dynamics of the ever-changing native culture; and the friendship ring, which united performers and audience as they danced, sang and held hands.

Alanis King performed a haunting and disturbing piece depicting three wild animals and the cessation of their lives at the silencing of the "Indian Drum". In this case, the "drum" symbolized the pulse of the native culture.

Kennetch Charlette provided comic relief in "Johnny One-Feather", a K-Tel like skit which explored common misconceptions and beliefs about natives.

The evening, held in the T.V. Studio as part of Global Development Awareness Week, was sponsered by the Werner-Lambart Arts Administration.

The artists are affiliated with the Association for Native Development in the Performing and Visual Arts, a non-profit organization that receives funding from the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture.

For more information about native art and theatre call the Association for Native Development in the Performing and Visual Arts at (416) 977-2512 or visit the Suite 208, 27 Carlton Street, Toronto.

Focus on Nancy Yee

By Shane Teper

In Cobourg, Ontario, 77% said yes to Yee!

When Anacin can't cure the accasional pain, part-time students look for Cobourgian Nancy Yee for academic inspiration.

Driven by a burning desire to ease the tensions in the minds of part time students, as well as to gain valuable experience on Scarborough Council (SCSC), Nancy was thrust into the position of SCSC Part-Time Commissioner.

Armed with a budget of about $8,000 (supplied by the Part-Time Student's Association) and an abundance of enthusiasm, Commissioner Yee has been hard at work.

Her two largest and most successful projects have been the addition of a large bulletin board across from the CIBC "Instant Teller", and three special Scarborough editions of Voice, a part-time students' newsletter.

She has also maintained an evening "Info Kiosk" from Monday-Thursday as well as the handling the Career Centre, which is open on Tuesdays from

Love V and T

Monique,
Even though you're always getting us in trouble, we still think you're cool. Those midnight parties have been shit-fuck mand wild. Happy V.D. Haroo-oo-oo-ga.

With love
From guess who.

Steve:
Hey baby, let's get cracking! Let loose you wild and crazy guy. You made a terrific (incomparable) host at the Dating Game Bash. The fun will continue in Quebec. Nous rockerons la ville!
Happy Valentine's day to you & Ro.

Love,
Heather

Dear Marcelino
If you want my love
Say it, say it
Now Darling.

Love,
Mariani

Mike & Ross:
So now you know the truth about us. That's right, we're ugly on the inside! So, what's your point? You still like us, right? Let's get together at the library. Soon. Maybe Walter can join us!!!
Happy Valentine's Day!

Love always,
The Mousse au Chocolat

To the Pig Dog Next Door,
Would you keep it down in your room! I can't study for all the noise you make. You should spend less time fooling around and more time studying.
P.S. Keep your eyes off of my boyfriend.

Your conscience

Theresa Smith,
Sorry about the rug burns on your knees & elbows. Hey, wanna f---? It turns out we switched undies last time by mistake. And I've still got a "heart on" for you!
Be my Val!

Love Sam C.

G-1,
Happy Valentine's Day to those winld, crazy neighbors that we really adore.

F-1

Max & Laura & Kate:
One day you'll find out that school means more than eating french fries on couches. OK. Maybe not.

Happy V-Day,
Farley & The Boys

Paul,
Hallo Paul, do you have a girlfriend? A lady in Red?

Happy V.D
Love Voula & Tracy.

Susan & Mary:
Through snowball fights, banana creamed mail boxes, shaving cream, eggs, sunflower seeds, honey & last but not least, WATER. We've made it so far, the enemy lines are weakening!
Have fun in Florida! "Sun your buns!"
Happy Valentine's Day

Love,
Heather

To the Kid,
Ya, ya ya. I didn't forget you! jeese! how many years is it that I've been writing these things??? Anyways, take it easy, and keep hangin around.

As always,
Your Friend,
Pete

P.S. Can ya get me a deal on some copies now????

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Nicaragua Communist

Letter To The Editor:

Fiona Muldrew in "clearing up misinformation", speaks facts. I speak truth. She says that I mislead people with "false remarks". Is she calling me a liar? She and her comrades can take me to court if they dare.

Far from being a puppet of the US government, I used to be just like Fiona - she might even have seen me at demonstrations a few years ago I was the short young Black man with the light grey coat. Thanks to my liberation "theology" teaching priests and nuns in high school, I became a Communist sympathizer and Sananista supporter, but now I am once again a practicing Roman Catholic.

The Nicaraguan dictatorship and the communist Party are one and the same; and far from being the enemies of the people, the "Contras" are the people.

It is useless (and boring to readers) to fight Fiona point by point, for such an argument would be senseless.

Communists are possessed by an ideology that does not allow them to admit to being wrong. I will not write on this subject again unless I am ashed.

For honest information on Nicaragua, I suggest the books "Breaking Faith" and "Nicaragua: Christmas Under Fire", by Mr Humberto Belli, a former La Breasa editor and former Sananista leader. You can write to him at:

Managerial Incompetence

Letter To The Editor:

The Pub has once again displayed beyond a doubt its managerial incompetance and lack of concern for students.

On a crowded $1.05 alive Pub Nite, with students lined up outside and down the hall, WHY is that elderly squash players are given elitist privileges? It seems squash players are more desirable patrons than students! A special table is reserved for these squash players who can enter The Pub ignoring any line-ups and foregoing any entrance fees. Who is The Pub for? As far as we are concerned Pub Nite is strictly for U of T students. As well as age of majority cards, students cards should be shown as proof of student status within U of T. Thus priorites would be given to U of T students on a crowded Pub Nite rather than athletic members or students not attending U of T.

Lastly, when waiting outside the door (for approximately an hour) requests were made as to the amount of time we would have to wait. Not once during the entire hour were we given an estimated time regarding possible entry. Note, however, that we are not unreasonable people. We didn't mind waiting as long as we are given a time estimate and our student Pub Nite is not taken up by elderly men fresh off the squash courts.

Once again, a senseless managerial decision that clearly reflects the needs of students has been made and we suggest it be reversed!

Rightly Pissed Off,
Janet. JoJo

P.S. If we bring our squash racquets, can we ignore the line-ups and forego all entrance fees???

Parking Complaints

Letter To The Editor:

Last week's letter regarding campus security/parking problems at Scarborough Campus has prompted me to relate my own experiences.

Earlier this year, while moving back into residence, I was forced to unload my car in a no parking area; I way forced because there were no close empty parking spots and my load was heavy. In an effort to demonstrate that I would soon be returning, a door was left open.

This, however, as it turns out was not sufficient. Upon my return to the car, Constable JJ. Baron Mills began writing me a ticket. Displaying a complete lack of professionality and tact, he refused to listen to my reasons and merely suggested that I should "take it to court" knowing full well that a $10 ticket would not be worth the hassle. Furthering this arrogant attitude was the fact that during this whole time, he himself was parked on the grass at the perimeter of residence.

After referring the matter to Sgt. Harris, I received absolutely no co-operation and subsequently paid the ticket.

The matter remained at the back of my mind until last week. At this time, I saw a Scarborough Campus security vehicle parked in exactly the same spot as I had received the ticket. This occurred despite the fact that a space behind and to the side of the car was vacant. In addition, the car remained for almost an hour.

Clearly, although such vehicles are exempt from tickets, it is evident that this officer also displayed a complete lack of disgression and professionality. How can students be expected to obey laws that their enforcers wantomly abuse? I trust that most will conclude that they can't.

Although it is likely that many fine members of "campus security" are being slighted here due to the actions of a few, I feel that such incidents should be investigated if they are to earn the respect of students. As it stands, however, I find myself agreeing with the majority of students in seeing "campus police" as little more than security guards with meter maid duties.

The above incidents were witnessed by:

Bad Ad for Talent Night?

Letter To The Editor:

"Can you sing, act, or do anything?" This question was posed on a bright yellow piece of paper, found under our lunch trays in the H-wing cafeteria. Although SCSC's talent night on February 25 may turn out to be success, we seriously question what level of response this ad will spark in the average Scarborough College student. There are two components of a successful event.

One component is an event's previous reputation. Last year's Talent Night was a flop (at least

Dennis has decided to take a vacation from The Underground for a while. He heard you could earn lots of money donating to the Toronto Sperm bank. Dennis is still trying to fill his testube. He should be gone for about 6-8 weeks. Ruth is also leaving us. Mel is really mad about this, he is now truly Ruth-less. Finally, Hanif too has decided to take a vacation. His parting words were "One more *&¢% lovesick Valentine message and I'm going to toss my cookies." We're gonna' miss the Big Guy. Really. A lot. More than words can say. Boy oh boy are we gonna' miss him. WHEEEEEEEEEEEEE!!!!!

Words From The Heart

To Stinky,
Let's get all the good looking guys and put them all in underwear until ... the "jello bath" is ready. Then, we can "eat" until we're filled up. Remember what I told you ... "Suck it like a lollipop, don't bite it like a sausage."
Love Wench

To the girls in C-3
Happy Valentine's Day to thee.
This is the last year for me so let's make sure we have a big party.
Best Wishes to all, wherever in the fall!
See ya later!

Dear Grace
Happy Valentines day, Pal!
Pete & Lee Lee

Dear Helen,
I'm not really sure now if it was you or Hanif who started this "BUM" deal, I got.
You know you got some big "things" yourself, like big...ideas--yeah, that's it, yeah big ideas!
Thanks for the last two years. As you often say to me, "I love this (wo)man, you're my idol"
Luv ya, Paul

To My Bub:
Thanx for always caring, loving, and laughing (even in the face of danger.)
Love, Posey. XOXOXO

Eggs! (Beaker)
Love is the best the second time around isn't it? You've once again made me the happiest person I know. You're gorgeous, sexy, brilliant, fun, honest, giving, caring, ... shall I go on? I love you dearly.
Infinitely Yours, Bardoonski

To D-1 (all of you little s———s):
For some of us our time is over, its come and almost past, the memories I have of us however will never come to pass.
We've stuck together through it all
and had a lot of fun,
the chicks, the fights, the crackers,
and cakes, was it equitable to everyone?
All I know is you helped me through an uncertain time of life, and if I had to endure it again I'd ask for all D-1.
Thanks for everything guys and Happy V-day,
Love Brad

Casanova Bert,

To my Overlea buddies
Thanks for making the year a lot of fun. Well, we tried anyway!
Happy Valentine's Day.
Love, Geraldine

Pat,
You don't know me yet ... but you will!
The Beave

Dar-jee-ling,
Surprise, surprise, there is a message for you! This will probably be the last Val message you receive in this paper (unless the boss extends the ole project). I'd just like to thank you for 4 years of friendship (and chocolate cheesecakes). have a sinful Valentine.
Your pal, RX

Wylie
What's shakin. Nice hair job. I'll beat you at squash yet.
Chris
P.S. Keep on skiing.

Sassitate,
I know its been a great year for you. Out with the old boyfriend and in with the K. Hope you have a happy Valentine Day and may a dozen roses, a box of chocolates and a mealticket land in your lap.
L. Ricky

To Gina C.
Hell its Valentine's Day (almost) and all I can think of to say is "thanks". It seems like I've known you forever even though its only been slightly over a year. In that year you've been my confidante, my psychologist, and most of all my best friend. You're always there when I need you (even though it sometimes takes a few calls) so, thanks, just for being my friend.
Anonymously, Eric

To Mike
Love is a durable fire
In the mind ever burning
Never sick, never old, never dead
From itself never turning.
Love always Krista

Therese,
Did I ever have a chance of not falling for you?
Love, who else?

Hof,
Cheese and greetings we wish to you may you run and slip in glue
Oh how nicely your plant grew
Let's all go to the Metro zoo
That from your house the rooves we view
And skipping through the halls we all say moo
That I sing to you -oo
So you learn them too -oo-oo-oo-oo.
Happy Valentines Day

To the Bastards in B3
Whom we seldom see
My gosh
You frosh
Sure make a din
Whenever we're in.
Despite our pleas
for silence and poise
You insist on saxophone
Reggae and noise
And on the wall you do pound
With a fury of sound
As pictures and plaster
Fall to the ground.
You say your house is possessed
At least that's what we guessed
But with these upcoming tests
Why not give it a rest?
-Your hating neighbours in B2

Dear Tenderheart Bear,
You are my best friend and most favourite person in the whole world. Be my Valentine!

To the Love of my life ("My Boy Lollipop")
They say that Valentine's Day is a time to show love,
to show that special someone,
they are being thought of.
You fill my heart with happiness
each moment that we share.
And every day is more wonderful just knowing that you care.
Each sweet and thoughtful thing you do just makes me love you more,
it makes you even dearer
and still nearer than before.
I hope you'll know the feeling that no words could quite convey of all the very special love
that's in my heart today.
I LOVE YOU SWEETHEART!
Forever yours,

The rumors going around must be true. I saw the evidence on the floor. Happy VD, I think.

Barb

Ro,
If I was forced to decide between you and a bottle of J.O. I'd shoot myself! Lottsa love.

From you know who

To Paul,
A spark once started a flame in me. It drew me close to you and let me see that through all the troubles we've been through. Our love managed to survive, and even grew. May this be one of the many Valentines we share together. Let's make this flame last forever.

Love,
Your baby Patricia
P.S. Thanks for a wonderful three years.

To Marshall,
That warm smile, that sexy look and your incredible sense of humour has got me thinking about you day and night. I'm restless without you, won't you come lay with me and let me sleep at night?

Love,
Your Secret Admirer

Barb,
Well chick, Happy Valentine's Day again. How many is this, #8. Well buddy this is our last year together in school. How about that? It seems like yesterday when we followed Mike down the halls in high school, or when we went to the bluffs for our weekly picnics. Do you remember the time Maria walked into Steve and just kept walking? Remember the walkathon, how energetic we were at the start & how worn out we were at the end?
God, it has been a long time, hasn't it? Well I guess this is the last time I can wish a Happy Valentine's Day at Scarborough College. Maybe next year the 7-year Club on their 8th year can wish you a Happy Valentine's if they are still alive! Anyway, I hope you find a special Valentine. If not, you've always got me!

Love,
Your partner
in numerous crimes

Happy Valentine's Whimp,
Well whimp, this is our first Valentine's together (big deal, right?). Well, it is! As much as I hate to admit it, I think you're Okay! Sometimes I wonder about your weird moods, but I guess that comes with the territory. Anyway, Happy Valentine's Day Geek!

Love, Prosciutto
P.S. We have hit the 11 month stage! How about a dozen roses!!

Happy Valentine's Denise,
It has been nice having you at Scarborough this semester. You are a really great person and I wish you all the best in the coming years that you will be spending at Scarborough. Good luck!

Your friend,
Tina M.
P.S. Thank me later for that little favour I did for you!

Pestess #2,
I love you and I hope you'll be my Valentine forever. (Give you a dollar?!)

Pestess #1

Lopes,
Dammit Janet, I miss you. But I do, however, hope the Habs will step out onto the ice one night and break all their legs. Happy Valentine's Day.

Sam

To Buffy
I can't resist that voluptuos body of yours! Each time I explore that carnal cavern of yours, I feel like I have gone to heaven in the arms of goddess Aphrodite.

With lasting passion,

To My Sexy Valentine,
Cupid's arrow must still be stuck in my heart since I love you more than ever. So, I just couldn't let Valentine's go by without saying, "Happy Valentine's Day Sweetheart! I Love You!"

Your Squirrel XXX

To all of my Volleyball buddies,
Thanks for all the fun! What could I do without you on Wednesday, Thursdays and Fridays (maybe some homework!) I'm failing all of my courses but at least I can say I had fun doing it! See you Wednesday!

Love
Denise

To Joe Madill
The little boy who went to Mexico never to return. Glad they've finally let you out. What would I do without you at Pub night?! Thanks for all the laughs, the beers, and especially the RIDES! You're the only Fred Astaire for me! Who knows.. .maybe we'll lock hips someday.

love
Twinkle Toes
P.S. You're too ticklish! (alias D.Q.)

To Al Chosen,
If you won't be my Valentine, I'll see you in court, BUDDY! Thanks for all the laughs, the exciting football season and the free entertainment! I owe you one... two...Never forget: don't go over there if Claire doesn't want you to...

Love
Your Mistress

To Andre and Barrio
You chicano studs! I never see you guys anymore. You must have been really busy since you got vans. Give me a call and we'll get the gang together. But Andre, this time you'll have to answer to the challenge! And Barrio, try to be ready in less than 6 hours!

Love,

Suffering from iron deficiencies lately? When do you get your M.R.S.? That would be a 6.0 wouldn't it? I guess you'll have to settle for a 2.5 until then (3.7 from J.A.) Pretty good for a B.A. - member! How about some LINT-free Kleenex (multi-purpose!). Have a great Valentine's Day, F.B.
From a 5.9

Dear Hanif:
Hey, what can you say to a man who gives it all to his friends--headaches, late nights in production, squash and volleyball matches so that we have to miss our classes, falling G.P.A.'s
Yet, I never had so much fun in University nor found a better bunch of people(the Underground Staff & friends) to do it with, nor a better editor to work for(you're that only editor I've worked for but that's beside the point). Thanks for everything Hanif.
Luv ya too, Paul

To The guy with the white mustang(I think your name is Nick)
I think you're just gorgeous and I always wait outside your class on Wednesday to watch you walk out. You're definitely my Valentine and I', definitely yours. Now that you know how I feel, it might be easier for me to come up and talk to you. I like you a lot and I know you won't be disappointed.
With deepest love,
A Shy Admirer

Johnny:
Through sheer determination, I have managed to learn your name. I know every class you attend, their times and rooms so that I can strategically position myself to watch you go by. I am a girl who is desperately longing for you, Johnny, to fill a deep void in her. I need your love. Badly. But I am shy. So this note is to implore you Johnny, of S-520, to make your move when you see me watching you.

We meet once again
But this time I remember.
I'm glad I did
And I reacted to it fast,
But when we started,
I didn't want it to last
And now here we are,
Five months have gone by
I want you to go on,
and not say goodbye.
So now I look back
To that night in September
I love you more than anything.
I hope that you'll remember.

Another time of year has come, a time where I can say, "I love you very, very much in each and every way."

Love always
Craig Pinnoch

P.s. Happy Valentine's Day.

Dear Wallace,

I'll be there for you if you should need me. You don't have to change a thing. I Love You just the way you are.

Wa I Nee,
Waldo

Ingrid:

How did a sweet thing like you end up with the likes of us? But you love us and we love you. Happy V Day!

Love, Helen

Byron:

I thought sex gods were supposed to be secure people. So how come you feel the need to show me the labels on your clothing everytime we meet?

By-Baby, there's a good chance I'll still respect you even if you aren't wearing POLO or Klein (But watch where you put that Wallet!)

Miss P.S

Sassitate,

I know its been a great year for you. Out with the old boyfriend and in with the K. Hope you have a happy Valentine's Day and may a dozen roses, a box of chocolates and a meal ticket land in your lap.

L. Ricky

To Kira:

Yours in Lust, be my Valentine

ROB

Sidney, Happy Valentine's Day!

Love,

My perfect Valentine:

Handsome in his own way
A good sense of humour,
Even a little bit goofy sometimes
Full of surprises
Some of them for me
A real charmer,
even ferocious fathers like him
My perfect Valentine,
Where are you, and why aren't you mine?

Dear Mel, Felix, Dennis and Matt
Mel, I used to complain whenever people mistook me for you, as you for me(and tea for two, and tea for two..) and still do! Seriously though, deep down I don't mind because, you poor child, you deserve some attention too!
Felix, I really lost all those squash games on purpose so that you'll get overconfident. I think 54 games should do it. Now I'm going to clobber you, I think!
Dennis, I don't know why people are always insulting you. You're such a gentle, fun to be with (I didn't say funny though) ignorant–oh I mean innocent, kind of guy. So what if your cartoons are trash, your jokes not funny, and your athletic prowess spastic! We still love you.

We're so happy to see you two working together again!! Happy Day.
H.S. & Her Hubby

Dear Ny,
While we've often said I Love You, it's meaning shall never fade so long as you are near me.
Everyday we get closer and it just seems that destiny is on our side.
Let's take it as a blessing that our love was meant to be. I look forward to our future together.

To our friend, Rob, the aerobics master,
Is all this exercise, making you better, stronger,fater? The form of athletics which you call "peachie" will sure make that BOD look good on the beachy. We're sorry we can't make it to class any more, but we embarrass ourselves when we drop to the floor. It seems that your pace, we women can't keep up. We don't have the stamina, don't callus a pup. We're happy for you cause on the gym floor you reign and with all your proven talent you still don't seem vain. Just a last nore, to a guy we think is great: We'll love you forever, though aerobics we hate.
Love Sarah & Linda XOXO

Dear Brian Blue Eyes,
Smile sometimes, life isn't always that bad. Besides aren't you sick of being in the vegetable mode? I'm beginning to think that I should write to Campbells. Have a very happy Valentine's Day.

Darling Jane
If I had a choice
I'd always choose to love
Up or down, good or bad
I don't mind just as long as its real
My friends say I'm lucky
To have found someone as good as you
My love's understanding
Understanding how to hold on to you
After all that we've been through
Time won't change the way I feel about you
After all the loves before
You're the finest I've ever known
Finest I've ever known.
love, Alex

Dear Craig,
I simply had to let you know how I feel, and what I think! I feel wicked and a little naughty, I think it was written in the stars though and it will get even better. I really think we'll be glad we did. Hope I'm right.

Dearest Darlene (weasal),
From one "senamenal" person to another,
Happy "Valentimes" day!
Love alway, your creamy cupcake,
Ron

Dear Pomila,
Hi buddie! It's me. The fellow pom-pom luster. White or red, today? Probably red - after all, it's Valentine's Day. Have a great one at that. Have a great R. week. (Don't think about DL too much, you won't be able to concentrate).
Love Always,
Your soon-to-be suntanned comrade,
E.W. M.D.

My Dearest Roe,
You are the specialist person in my life. I can't wait to have you by my side when that wedding day comes by.
Love forever, your sexy, delicious
Dilly

To my creamy cupcake Ron,
the special moments this year have been the silent ones.
Happy "Valentimes" Day.
Love always your weasal,
Darlene

To John A.
A bright sunny smile
A shadowed look.
A happiness that's gone out of style
Love, that we hear of only in a book.
Things seem so perfect
What could go wrong?
I'll trust you, I have to,
Our love is strong.
I can't allow silly things people do to make me unsure to forget you'll be there.
While you're away I have one little task,
One small favour,
Just one thing I ask,
Please remember each and everyday
My love for you grows in so many ways
So for me, here at home all alone,
Remember ...
The bright sunny smile
The shadowed look
Love like we read of only in a book
Our love.

To Geraldine,
I don't know much about you, but when I first saw you walk out of "The Underground station", I fell for you.
I hope you find out who I am soon, and not hate me for being too chicken to introduce myself sooner.
Happy Valentine's.
Andy

A friendly "hello" to all my Valentines,
You know who you are, if I mention you all they probably won't print this message (at least not in one volume). Thanks for all the inspiration to study, exercise, gossip, spend my hard earned money in the school cafeteria, study (the final salary will make it all worthwhile, so don't ever think i'm tired of being checked up on). You're all the best, and with you all around, complaints I make take on a very hollow meaning.
Love to all, Dave

This is a poem for the girls of A6
It could be serious, but it's just for kicks
Oh Kim, you hussy, with your porcelain god
And Joann, the farmgirl, with that lovely bod.
There is Nissy, the flirt, who is just too thin
That thunderbolt is enough to do me in Debra, the wife of Big, Mr. Ross
Sure let's know who is the boss
Finally Tracey, my dear, you're such a sweet girl
Though you poems are enough to make my nose hairs curl
My poem is over, and I'd just like to say
May you all have a great Valentine's Day!!

End of the F*!&ingMessages

To My Main Squeeze, Karen

It's been a lust-packed, sinner's delight between the two of us. We've been going full speed for nearly a year. No sense in stopping now - nothing's fallen off yet. Give my love to your CAT (or wait till we're alone). See you at the alter. Slurpy kisses,

Sava

P.S. How are we going to get the whip cream off the mirrored ceiling? What about the video camera and saddle that fell into the hot tub?

To Michelle,

Thanks for the late night phone sex. I sleep much better now. Baby you can dial me anytime!

Signed, Your Breathless Valentine (Jeffrey)

P.S. I won't put you on hold.

Suzy Q.:

Ah, those days and nights spent staring at CRT's until our faces turned green. Early mornings filled with pizza and burgers. If that wasn't fun, I don't know what is. So, cheers to a term of squashing, bumping and volleying, and maybe some baseball come summer.

Jeremy Carvello

Hello carvello. Let's play on the slopes together.

Me

Gerrie:

Valentine's Day is bizarre. Everyone with a loved one receives chocolates to get fat on, flowers they're allergic to, sappy presents with little hearts all over them and stupid "Be My Valentine" cards. Why? All because a scantily clad, obese little cherub insists on flitting around stabbing people in various parts of their anatomy with aphrodisiac-tipped arrows. And the most annoying part is that the little fruit has lousy aim! (Maybe I should stop standing sideways). Anyway, just because I hate Valentine's Day, doesn't mean I'm not going to wish you a happy one. Go ahead...Happy Valentine's Day, you deserve it!

Love,

Dear Michael

Happy Valentine's Day lover!
Hope to spend the day with you!
But most of all hope to spend
The night with you!

But at least I know it!)

To Tim Powell,

Your anemic disposition really turns us on! The way you flex those bulging white shoulder muscles is breathtaking! When you take off your shirt our hormones go on a rampage! Next time don't stop there. Maybe we could roll around in a snowbank ... please? Just to hear your romantic laugh is enough to make us cream our jeans! We'll be keeping our eyes peeled on your ferocious spike! Lustfully yours,

Stacie,

We're just kidding;

Each Valentine with you only grows to be warmer and fonder as time goes on ... You truly are the deepest joy and radiant sunshine of my life ... You are the warmest, most sensitive, and caring individual I have ever known ... I'm the most luckiest person because I've been given the "pot of gold" under the rainbow ... I want to spend every second with you and yet its not enough, for time is much too finite for us ... You make my life the most happiest and fulfilling world to be in ... A world of beauty and meaning ... Migara, I'm sending you this message filled with all my love ... Happy Valentine's, Sweetheart. Forever loving you;

To the staff of The Underground,

It's been a great year guys. To Paul, one of the sweetest guys I know, captain of our volleyball team. To Helen, you bug the Hell out of me too, but yes, I love you. To Byron, the walking phallic symbol, couldn't have made it without your help. To the five guys who stayed with me late Tuesday morning (6 a.m.) finishing this special Valentine's issue - Mel (my hero!), Pete (the Irish Elf), Matt (Big Bucks), Vangie (Big Everything), and Byron. Thanks also to Debbie, Barb, Ruth (!), Felix, Dennis, Birgit (where did this gorgeous woman come from?), Steve (President of the Library Club), Sava, Ingrid (my favorite), Wicked Wanda, Lynda (learn how to dress will you?), Nieves (Underground pinup girl), Marnie (our chocolate covered sweetie), Karim (our hair covered sweetie), John, Zahir and Zain (our Indian Dynamic Duo), Geraldine, Julie, IRA - the typesetter, Alvin (the thin man), Nick (Mr. Subtle), Rod, Anita, the Volleyball team, Andrew (for Andrew's Sake), Karen, Sneha, Curt, Tom, Cindy (cutie), Caroline, Leona (our STAR writer), and finally Mark Assing (because he's the last person we thought of). Thanks,

Focus On Nancy Vee

5-7 p.m.

Nancy, who is herse a part-time student in the Co-Op Commerce Programme, will be graduating at the end of this year.

"I'm actually going to miss this place ... I made a lot of good friends here at Scarborough. I just wish more part-time students would come out and participate in it," she said, referring to the traditionally apathetic part-time student body.

Nancy will be persuing a career in occupational counselling when she graduates.

Polo Team Action Underwater

By Chuck Poltz

The prospects for Scarborough College's water polo team this year are good, but anybody who has paid attention to the interfaculty water polo league in the past knows the fact that Scarborough is a contender is nothing new.

Making it into the playoffs has never been a cause for concern, and although the team is smaller than in years past, not much else has changed.

The team got off to a slow start in the preseason with one win and one loss. It should be noted that these games were played back to back with no subtitutions available, a rather tiring set of circumstances.

As the regular season arrived so did that enthusiasm of the entire team, and the challenge was met with an excess of energy and zeal. The result was a 10-4 defeat of the Victoria College squad.

Todd Stone, playing the "hole" position (deep center forward) gave a strong performance, contributing 5 goals to Scarborough's total. Other contributers were Soon Tong Wong, Chuck Poltz, and Don Perry.

Manuel Alvarez played extrememly well in net, stopping a good number of shots and exhibiting good defensive skills. Without Alvarez it could have been close.

This past week the Scarborough team took on the team from Innis. The score was 10-2 and the game was an easy one for Scarborough as Innis was one man short of a full team.

The offense's play was messy, but the extra man advantage that the team enjoyed helped compensate for it.

The defence, in contrast, were beginning to work together well. They should be applauded considering that for most of them, this is their first season of water polo action. These people are: Jeff Guthry, Marnie Jull, Heather Nellis and the more experienced Doug Queen, who also doubles as the goaltender.

The goal-scorers in this game were Todd Stone, Soon Tong Wong, Chuck Poltz, and Manuel Alvarez.

This coming week the Scarborough team is slated to face Erindale. Erindale promises to be Scarborough's biggest rival in the race for the "B" division waterpolo championship.

'B' Team Back In Form

By Neil Winton

After suffering their first loss of the season the previous week, the men's 'B' basketball team bounced back in fine form, beating Victoria College 44-34 last Monday night.

The victory gave Scarborough a 10-1 record on the season.

Both teams started out slowly and, for a while, it appeared as though saran-wrap covered both baskets. At the midway point of the first half, the score was only 3-3.

It was at this point that the game began to open up. The points came quickly and, because of some excellent defense by Scarborough, the B's managed to open up a five point lead. The score was 17-12 at the intermission.

In the second half, Scarborough struggled, but fortunately their strong defensive play made sure that their lead remained intact.

Once again, it was at the midpoint of the half when Scarborough began to assume greater control of the game, pushing the lead out to as many as 12 points. Vic kept the pressure on thoughout the game and it was only Scarborough's composure that prevented Vic from making a serious come back.

The entire squad should be commended for a fine team effort. This effort was especially gratifying since the team was down from the overtime loss of the week before.

Notable performances were turned in by Jim Anderson (16 pts), Rick Gostick (12 pts), Dave Whorms (6 pts) and Neil Winton (6 pts).

With the playoffs quickly approaching, the consistent play of the team is a good sign. The team's chances of taking the championship look excellant at the moment

The team next plays this Tuesday night, at home, against Emmanuel.

Women's V-Ball Win Over UC

Last Monday night saw the Scarborough Campus Women's Interfaculty Volleyball team play the type of volleyball that they are capable of.

Trailing 8-10 to University College (UC) in the first game, the girls rallied back with four straight points to win 12-10. The team's hustle and intensity were very evident in this win.

The second game of the match saw the girls lead from start to finish eventually beating UC, 11-8. The offence and defence combined made this win possible.

By third game, the Scarborough team became over powering, as they easily defeated UC squad 11-4. The girls are finally beginning to play as a team, and should continue to improve in the weeks to come.

The girls will have to be in top form next week: in order to win their two remaining match against St. Mikes and Rehab Spikers. St. Mikes is among the league leaders and Rehab will also be a challenge as was evident in their strong showing two weeks ago at Scarborough.

Bad Ad For Talent Night

everyone we talked to said so). Knowing this, why would any student want to attend this year's Talent Night? And this bring us to the second essential ingredient for a successful event, namely exensive promotion vis-a-vis advertising.

This advertising should be both conventional and unconventional, and in both cases, it should be dynamic.

Since constructive criticsm is our aim, here are some suggestions. Instead of slipshod message on yellow paper, why not emply other methods of attracting home-grown talent?

-stimulate participation, ie. set up a stool for a guitarist during lunch hours in H-cafe.

-after screening participants, publish progrm in The Underground and perhaps publish interviews.

-make use of the manpower of the eager Spirit Committee.

-provide incentives, ie. for participants, prizes and newspaper coverage (unlike the usual meagre coverage); for audience, draws.

In short, this letter was not submitted with the intent of maligning the Talent Night. Indeed, our intent is to demonstrate that students of this College are not apathetic. If Talent Night bombs, it won't be due to student apathy, but to student govemment apathy.

By-Laws Help The Underground

Letter to the Editor,

As a former SCSC Finance Commissioner (1984/85), and an avid reader of The Underground, I cannot help but comment on the recent publicity concerning the SCSC By-Law refusing SCSP (Underground) employees from sitting on council.

The Underground has always had a number of safeguards to protect it from ever again being controlled by SCSC (as was the case back in the Balcony Square Days). Why is it that The Underground cannot accept this By-Law as a similar repellant?

Is it this lack of objectivity concerning council that motivates SCSC to enact this By-Law? I think so. If our council (84/85) had finished the legal work under our term, I'm sure that we would have looked after this matter at the time of SCSC's incorporation, in 85/86.

These measures are a definite means of keeping the relationship between SCSC and SCSP on a professional level. As everyone knows, there are certain times when the SCSC executive must discuss sensitive matters which cannot leak beyond the walls.

In my days on council, the student press wasted little time sensationalizing every juicy morsel on the front page of The Underground. For seucurity matters alone, such meetings must be kept private.

The press wields an awful lot of influence in the Scarborough Campus Community, and as such must act responsibly. Leaving The Underground open to charges of helping its friends and staff gain a position on SCSC would not be constructive for the SCSP.

In this manner, I believe that this By-Law protects SCSP even more than it protects SCSC.

Finance commissioner
